Condo Cabana Damaged in Fire

Kent, Wash. - May 14, 2016- A condo complex's cabana suffered significant damage after it caught fire in the 5400 block of S. 234 Place at 6:30 this morning.

The stand-alone cabana had heavy smoke and flames coming from it when firefighters from the Kent RFA and Valley RFA arrived. Fortunately, no one was in the building at the time of the fire and there were no reported injuries. The building stands about 20 feet from the nearest home and did not damage any of the condos.

It took firefighters approximately 20 minutes to control the fire and search it for any victims.

The fire is under investigation.
