Ready...Set...Prepare!

It is a good idea to have a kit filled with supplies in case of an emergency, like an earthquake. Find and circle the things below that you would need in your family disaster supplies kit. Draw an X over the things you would not put in your kit, then do the math problems below.

1. How many things have a 0 around them?
2. How many things have an X through them?
3. Subtract the number of things with an X through them from the number of things with a 0 around them to count how many things are in the disaster supplies backpack.

Answer Key:
