Kent East Hill Condominium Fire

Kent, Wash – February 5, 2020 – At 9:19 PM Puget Sound Fire Units responded to smoke from a condominium at the 9600 block of S 248th. The first engine on scene saw lazy black smoke coming from the home's front door with the home's occupant standing outside suffering from burns to the body. While a crew cared for the adult male other units pulled hose and extinguished the fire, located in the kitchen.

The first King County Medic One unit on scene immediately took over patient care of the adult male and transported him to a local hospital. The seriousness of his condition was unknown at time of press release.

The fire crews were able to keep the fire to the one unit which allowed the other families in the same complex to return to their homes.

Kent police assisted with traffic control and no other agencies were needed.
